INTERESTING NEWS ABOUT THE CLUBS

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 INDIANAPOLIS, May 6 .- The third Pittsburg versus Indianapolis game was played to-day to about 1,000 spectators. Playing was uphill work, this being the first warm day of the season and exceedingly hot. The opening was energetically contested by both teams and each scored two in the first inning. McGeachy and Denny, both injured in Saturday's game, were off, and Buckley was at third and Daily in right field. The batteries were: Conway and Carroll for the visitors, and Shreve and Meyers for Indianapolis. Lynch umpired and received the usual supply of hooting.

Little Seery opened with a present of first from Conway, went to second on Glasscock's sacrifice hit to Dunlap and to third on a wild pitch. Conway kindly gave Hines first and he stole on the first pitched ball. Daily got his eye on the ball for a single to right screen, which brought the two runners across the coveted plate, with himself taking second on the throw home. Meyers gave Beckley a foul fly. Buckley got a bot grounder near enough for Smith to change its course, but the heavy catcher landed safe at first and stole second,

For Pittsburg, Evangelist Sunday, who is also a baseballist, smashed the ball in the nose for a long fly to center, but Hines interrupte its passage on a magnificent catch. Hanlor went to first on balls and

BECKLEY CAME UP SMILING. He intended to do something, and he did it, bounding out a fly which cleared the righ screen and let him trot the circuit as he pleased, handon in advance of him. Schoeneck muffed a throw from Glasscock, giving Dunlap a life. Glasscock took Carroll's liner and then made an error record by overthrowing first to double Dunlap, but the runner took second,

Maul from Glasscock.
In the second inning there was bad luck all around and both sides failed to score, but in the third Pittsburg managed to secure one in this: Sunday singled cleanly to right, advanced to second on Hanlon's sacrifice to first and came home on Beckley's single to left. Daily took Dunlap's fly to right. Trying for third on Carroll's single, Beckley was thrown out by

Indianapolis captured one in the fourth in ning. Bassett was fielded out at first, Schoeneck was given his base on balls. Shreve forced Schoeneck out at second and took second. Secry's fly was muffed by all the infield, and first and second bases were filled. Glasscock's fly was muffed and Shreve scored, while Secry was cut off at the home plate. The one run at the close of the fourth inning, making it $ to $. The interest in the game perceptibly increased, and both sides girt up their loins with fire in

In the fifth Indianapolis broke the tie by securing one. Hines hit down the left foul line for two bases, but on a rank decision of the umpire was declared out at second. Daily made a nice single to center. Mevers hit to third, who fielded Daily out at second. Meyers stole second and scored on Buckley's single to center; Bassett made a fine single to right, advancing Buckley to second. Schoeneck hit to Dunian, forcing Bassett out at second. For the visitors, Sunday went out on a fly to Bassett. Hanlon got his base on balls: Beckley went out on a foul fly to Meyers | and Dunlapwent out from Bassett to Schoeneck. Luck continued with the home team in the Luck confinned with the home team in the sixth inning, and two more were captured in their favor. Shreve went out from Dunlap to first; Seery went out from Conway to first; Glasscock then hit to right center for a single; (Hines put the ball in the same territory for a single, Glasscock going to second; Daily hit to right for a base, scoring Glasscock and putting Hines on third; Hines stole home, Daily going to second; Meyers hit to short stop and died at first.

Indianapolis, evidently thinking that the game was won as it stood now, 8 to 3 in their favor, relaxed their efforts, while the Pittsburgs pulled themselves together and played energetically, who ling two runs in the seventh inning, aithough the Indianapolis kicked vigorously all through against the umpire's decisions. Buckley struck out; Bassett siugled; Schoeneck flew to Sunday and Shreve forced Bassett by a hit to Duniap, Blank for Indianapolis. Visitor Conway got his base on balls. He overrun second, but the umpire did not see it. Smith sacrificed and the run came in on Sunday's single. Sunday stole second, Hanlon to Schoeneck. Beckley out; two runs. All due to the asinine actions of the umpire, was the conclusion of the home team. The eighth was unproductive. Indianapolis, evidently thinking that the the visitors scored two by a base on balls, Bassett's error and Dunlap's two-bagger. After the game there seemed a general outcry ngainst Umpire Lynch. One man cried: "Get out, you ————," another hissed and yelled at him. Brush to enter a protest against the umpire. The seventh inning was a very critical time for Indianapolis, and the club claims that in this inning Lynch gave two runs to Pittsburg after two men were out, by a rank decision at second base, when a fair, impartial judgment, would have retired the side.

The pitching was well done by both Shreve and Conway, but they were occasionally his pretty hard. The batting, however, while fairly heavy, was not so notable as on Saturday.

are broken, but that his foot is bruised very badly, clear to the bones. It is swollen to twice badly, clear to the bones. It is swellen to twice its usual size and filled with water, but no blood—having a dropsical appearance. He ordered Galvin to be sent home and instructed "Jeems" to remain off his feet at least a week, and at the end of two weeks, if he followed the physician's instructions, he would be able to play with the use of a rubber stocking.

Galvin started home on 5 o'clock train to-day.

Maul and Miller will officiate in the game to morrow, with Sunday in right and Carroll in left. The team outside of the pitchers is in good shape, and Morris will join the team at Chicago on Wednesday. Indianapolis feels blue over the game to-day. Carroll's catching was fine; and Dunlap's hit over the fence, win-ning the game, caused them much chagrin.

CINCINNATI, May 6 .- Fifty dollars is a pretty stiff price to give for a glass of beer, but that is the rate paid by a Cincinnati player to-day. When President Stern met Lee Vian he remarked: "I bear you have been drinking."
"Yes, I had a glass or two of beer," admitted the pitcher. "Weil, that will cost you just $100." It was a severe lesson, but the Cincinnati club is resolved to enforce discipline to the letter this year. Manager Schmelz has warned the team that for infractions of the temperance or staying out-late-of-nights clauses in their contracts it would cost the offender dear. Carney posted £200 with the Sporting Life in support of his offer, and if his forfeit is not covered by May 31 the bold Jem will proclaim himself lightweight champion of the world and demand that McAuliffe shall surrender to him the Police Gazette belt. McAuliffe's manager, Billy Madden, was shown Carney's ultimatum. Billy said that Jack would pay no attention to any offer for a finish fight under London rules, but would be ready to fight Carney a limited number of rounds before any private club in England and that he will bet £1,000 that Jack will win. But before going to England he will give any lightweight in this country a chance to try his mettle against McAuliffe for a purse in any of the California clubs, and he will bet them from $1,000 up to $5,000 on the result. In the Boston Globe, of December 23, 1888, occurs the following: "For nearly two years I have suffered constantly with severe head-aches, said Miss Christine Mackenzie, who lives at 95 Newbury street. "I had not been well for several years bewould feel dizzy and confused. At times it would ache so severely for days that it seemed as though it would burst.

Miss Christine Mackenzie

"My sleep grew restless and disturbed, and I would feel weak and tired when I woke up in the morning. One minute I would feel teverish and the next would seem to be freezing.

"My eyes became weak. They would be dim and watery after reading a few minutes so that I could not see at all. With the soreness and discharge from my head and throat, the pains in my chest and head and my loss of strength, I felt very sick indeed.

"I was discouraged and thought nothing "I was discouraged and thought nothing could be done for me, but having read the statements of patients who had been cured by Dr. Blair and his associates, I decided to see them. They told me my trouble was catarrh and that my case was a curable one.

"I placed myself under the treatment and I began to improve steadily. The headaches and pains in my chest disappeared. My nose and throat are clear, I sleep well and have gained in strength and weight. My complete recovery was an agreeable surprise to me."

IN SIMPLE FORM.

Pepular Explanation of a Matter Usually Velled in Technicalities.

In this connection there can hardly be s more interesting subject than the ultimate effect of catarrh upon the hearing. The processes of this disease in poisoning the breath, rotting away the delicate machinery of smell and taste, poisoning the lungs and the blood and passing into the stomach, enfeebling the digestion, vitiating the secretions, all this has perhaps been very gen-erally discussed; but the very frequent effect of catarrh of the nose and throat upon the hearing has not been touched upon as often as the subject warrants. A very little study of anatomy will show the reader that the junction of the back passage of the nose and the upper parts of the throat are connected with the ear by a minute and delicate passage known as the Eustachian tube. Along this tube the catarrhal process extends, producing congestion and inflammation. By the further extension of this process to the mucous lining of the tympanum of theear is caused, in some cases, slight forms of catarrh of the middle ear and in this way partial or complete deafness is produced.

Partial or complete deafness may in like manner result from the swollen, thickened tissue encroaching upon the mouth of the Enstachian tube. Partial or complete deafness may result from estarrhal interference with the nasal breathing depriving the ear of a proper supply of pure air or from the effects of obstruction in the nasal passages, causing undue rarifaction or condensation of the air in the middle ear.

or condensation of the air in the middle ear.

In such cases as these general remedies which are often prescribed prove comparatively ineffective. A cure can only be obtained by skillful and scientific local treatment—and let it be said here that nothing could be attended with more disastrous results than unskillful local treatment—combined with constitutional treatment and care for the disease which brought about the trouble to the hearing. Publishing Names. A word of remark may not be out of place regarding the publishing of the names of patients treated and cured. While such publication is made each week in the daily papers, and the name and address of the patient given, so that the statement can be easily verified and substantiated by any one, it should be said that all such statements are entirely voluntary. "I should like to be treated," a lady romarked the other day, but I would not like to have my name in the paper." Let it be stated that Drs. Copeland & Blair never publish a name or statement without the full and free consent of the patient, nor do they publish one hundredth part of the testimonials, letters and statements received by them from grateful patients. As observed, the statements given are entirely voluntary, and are given by the patients for publication. Drs. Copeland & Blair would never publish the most emphatic testimonial unless the patient giving it understood that it was to be printed, and gave willing consent.

DEAR SIB—I camnot say too much for Pratt's Aromatic Geneva Gin, as I was a great sufferer for five years with my kidneys. Tried all of the kidney medicines and two doctors without being cured. I was part of the time on my bed and could not get up, or even turn myself over.
I bought one-half dozen bottles of your gin, and before finishing them was well; but fearful that it was not a permanent cure, I used an other half-dozen, and am now perfectly well.
Very respectfully, M. L. BYINGTON.

T/ID GLOVES can easily be cleaned by first putting the glove

On the hand, then take a clean piece of flannel, some tepid water and a cake of IVORY SOAP, wet the flannel slightly and rub it lightly on the soap, then rub the soiled parts of the glove with the soaped flannel. After the dirt is removed, rub all parts of the glove with a damp piece of clean flannel; remove the glove, stretch it lengthways and lay aside to dry. Ordinary soap contains too much alkal which will turn to color of the kid.
